Announcement of marriages and deaths free—tributes of respect and obituaries half price.

CHANCERY Court at Dover next Monday and at Arlington Monday week.

MR. DAVID HAMILTON has made some additions to his tobacco factory and is still crowded for want of room.

CLASSMEETING at the residence of S. A. Caldwell, on Greenwood Avenue, next Tuesday night. All are invited to attend.

FROM some recent manifestations it appears that the use of black shows up spiritual mediums in rather a bad light.

MR. G. B. WILSON has returned to his home in this city, and we are glad to learn that his health is greatly improved.

It is believed that while suffering from vertigo the late Rev. John Wilson had a violent fall, causing injuries which brought about his death.

P. G. JOHNSON, C. and M., will make sale of the West property, at Sellers Rest Station, on the 18th of March. For particulars read his advertisement.

JOHN B. MARTIN, the celebrated washer-woman, has gone back on to exhibit his machine to the Grangers, who met in convention there last Wednesday.

THERE will be a special term of the Circuit Court at Arlington, for Houston county, beginning 3d Monday in March. The regular term is the first Tuesday in April.

THE Supreme Court at Nashville will take up the business of this, the 10th Circuit, on the 28th of this month. We do not know what day the business from this county will be reached.

NEW BANK.—The requisite amount of stock to establish a new Bank in this city is being subscribed, and the prospect at present is that the full amount will be secured in a short time.

WE learn from the Hopkinsville Democrat that Dr. C. C. Forbes is superintendent of the Central Kentucky Lunatic Asylum, at Anchorage. He is eminently fitted for the position.

WE regret to learn that Rev. T. H. Hinson, pastor of the Methodist Church at Bell Buckle and Wartrace, is afflicted with sore eyes so that he is unable to attend to his pastoral work.

REV. DR. SMOOT, an able Presbyterian divine, of Bowling Green, Ky., will preach a series of sermons in the Presbyterian Church of this city, commencing next Monday evening at 7 1/2 o'clock.

FINE FARMS FOR RENT.—P. G. Johnson, Clerk and Master, has five fine farms for rent at public auction, at the court house in this city, on Saturday, 26th inst. Be sure and read the advertisement which we insert in to-day's paper.

FOR SHERIFF.—Mr. J. E. Moseley is announced in this issue as a candidate for Sheriff. He has made one of the best Tax collectors the county ever had, and we doubt not, if elected Sheriff, he will fill the office to the entire satisfaction of the people.

THE Henderson (Ky.) Reporter contains the announcement of the death of Mrs. M. F. Merritt, wife of Montgomery Merritt, Esq., of that city. Her death occurred on the 31st inst. Mr. Merritt is a brother of H. A. Merritt, Esq., of this city.

R. H. PICKERING has purchased the old homestead of the late Mrs. Ely, and is making additions and otherwise improving it, for his future home. It will be, when completed, one of the handsomest residences on Greenwood Avenue.

WORK has been resumed upon the Episcopal Church. This edifice, when completed, will be one of the most substantial in the State, whilst its architectural beauty and finish will be an ornament to our city and honor to the builders.

OUR young friend, W. E. K. Doak, has left for New York, where he has secured a position in business. Billie is a sprightly young man, full of vim, and we predict for him a successful future. His address is W. E. K. Doak, 75 Gold street, New York city.

MESSRS. Bloch Bros. have reduced their stock by constant sales, and they now have room for a large and varied assortment of Spring and Summer goods. Mr. Simon Bloch is now East making heavy purchases, and will soon make shipments of the same to fill out their commodious storehouse.

AT the last meeting of the Grand Lodge, K. of P., held in Nashville last week, our friend and fellow-townsman, B. H. Owen, was elected Grand Vice Chancellor of the State. We are glad to see this honor conferred upon one of our townsmen, and upon one so worthy to receive it.

SAD ACCIDENT.—On last Tuesday, as Mr. George Tompkins, son of Robert Tompkins, of this city, was engaged in shoveling saw-dust from under the saw at J. T. Johnson's mill, one of his arms was caught by the large circular saw, and badly fractured in the elbow joint. Drs. McReynolds and Wright were called in and amputated his arm midway the elbow and armpit.

If it has not already been done, we think it a good idea for the Grangers to agree among themselves upon a system for reclaiming their exhausted fields, looking to economy as an important condition. As far as we can learn from reading and reflection, next to a liberal application of fertilizer, the best system is that of turning under or green crops. For instance: Plant the field in rye about the first of September, that it may take root before cold weather, graze it during the winter, unless the growth is too feeble, turn it under about the first of June, and sow upon it a crop of stock peas; this thoroughly plowed under, the first of September, will leave the field in good condition for a crop of wheat and clover.

The advantages of this process are that the rye if well set, will afford profitable grazing up to the latter part of March, and then attain a growth of a foot or more, by the first of June. Turned under then, it will be thoroughly decomposed by the time the peas are ready to be ploughed under, and these, in turn, will rot by the time the wheat should be seeded. The two distinct crops, thus ploughed under, will add a greater variety of plant food to the soil than either separately, and if the process has sufficiently fertilized the field for a healthy growth of clover, the work of regeneration may be left, for completion, to the fertilizing qualities of clover, aided by judicious rotation of crops. The cost is light compared with the annual purchase of fertilizers, though the progress of regeneration may be hastened by their application.

MR. D. KINCANNON, of the firm of Kincannon, Wood & Co., left last Thursday for the East to buy stock for their wholesale and retail house. Mr. Kincannon came here, from East Tennessee, in 1864, and went to work as a journeyman tinner. He soon commenced business for himself, with small capital, and by industry and energy he has rapidly accumulated a competency, and is now doing a large and paying business. The firm, of which he is the principal member, keep their large storehouse fully stocked with nearly everything in the house-furnishing line, together with stoves, tinware, etc. They do an extensive business in the line of queensware, hardware, &c., and this branch of their trade is constantly increasing. When a man moves into our community and becomes identified with its interests, we take pleasure in speaking of his prosperity, and wish we could chronicle such items in every issue of our paper.

ON Tuesday last, in company with Revs. W. Burr and R. K. Brown and S. A. Caldwell, Esq., we were present at the residence of our efficient and popular County Clerk, Peter Ouel, to partake of his sixty-third birthday dinner. About five o'clock we were ushered into the dining room, where we found Miss Lizzie Riggs, Mattie Neblett, Aggie and Sarah Ouel, and Mr. Gordon Outlaw. The table, which had been prepared under the supervision of the young ladies, was well supplied with both substantial and delicacies, and the company, each and all, did justice to the feast. Uncle Peter was born in about two miles of the Public Square, and has ever since resided in the county, of which he is one of our most useful and honored citizens. May he live to enjoy many more such birth-day dinners.

AT the regular January meeting of Tazewell Grange, No. 149, the following officers were elected for the present year:

W. H. Fessy, Master.
Jas. Harard, Overseer.
T. H. Powers, Lecturer.
W. H. Marable, Steward.
A. W. Outlaw, Asst. Steward.
S. O. Fessy, Sec'y.
S. C. Powers, Chaplain.
E. Harard, Gate-keeper.
Mrs. B. Jackson, Ceres.
Miss M. Smith, Flora.
Mrs. M. C. Powers, Pomona.
Miss Annie Martin, Stewardess.

MR. ATKINS, the Railroad tax collector, will commence levying on personal property on the 25th inst., in all cases where the tax has not been paid, and soon thereafter Mr. R. D. Moseley, State and County Tax Collector will do the same thing. These gentlemen earnestly desire that everybody who has property to tax should pay the same before the 25th inst. One of them went to the county seat to levy on property. The county needs the money to meet her pressing demands, and if the taxpayers will come up and pay promptly it will not be long before county warrants will be at par. Prompt payment will also save additional costs.

FINE TOBACCO.—Messrs. E. W. and W. J. Powers, of District No. 3, brought us a liberal sample of their crop of tobacco last week. It is a long, bright, well handled tobacco, and we hope these gentlemen may receive a good price for it. One of them went to the school-house to the farm last year, and now shows "what he knows about farming," as well as teaching young ideas how to shoot.

WE are glad to learn that the two saw-mills in this city are doing a thriving business. Both are unable, at present, to supply the demand for lumber. They will have to put on an extra force to supply present orders. We are glad to see this indication of their prosperity. They have bought all the logs from the month of Harpeth to this time, and buy all that are offered in this market.

MR. W. J. Ely, of this city, recently purchased a fine Jersey cow from Mr. Webb Garth, near Trenton, Todd county, Ky., price $150. Several of our citizens have purchased cows from Mr. Garth, and they prove to be, as represented, very fine stock. We are truly glad to see so many investing in this way, as an improvement of the stock of our country will add greatly to its growth.

OUR Chancery Court Clerk, Mr. P. G. Johnson, is having work done preparatory to building a handsome residence on the lot adjoining the residence of Judge Tyler, on Greenwood Avenue.

THE TEN VIRGINS.

Thursday night, at Franklin Hall, was acted the parable of the Ten Virgins, a sacred drama. Ten young ladies from Nashville personated the virgins. Their costumes were gotten up with much taste, and in their performance they show much careful training. It is a perilous attempt to dramatize a parable of the Master: the lesson conveyed is so impressive, the parable so simple, so sublime that it is a task of exquisite taste to dramatize it.

The scene represented the outer chamber of an eastern dwelling, and the Virgins enter to the music of the Wedding March. The opening chorus, "Behold the Bridegroom cometh," was well performed and showed some fine voices well trained. Then followed solos by Brave Heart, Love-the-World and Plausible. Growing weary while the Bridegroom tarried, they choose Love-the-World queen and commit to her judgment the direction of their amusements. Her queenly taste furnished the audience as well as the Virgins quite a rare, varied programme—recitations, songs, solos, duets and dialogue. Some of these pieces were well, very well, executed. "Only a While," a poem by Prudence, was good and well delivered. Faint Heart was then required by her Majesty to sing "Eve's Lamentation" on leaving Eden, and acquitted herself well. And so the time passed under the gentle sway of Love-the-World until she invited them to a banquet, when rebellion came. Prudence, Brave Heart and Timidity refused to join them and are banished from her royal presence. Here we had the first tableau, the Protest. The banquet was celebrated by seven, two of the wise virgins remaining, Little Faith and Faint Heart. The scene at table was varied by drinking song and riddle, and was closed with the tableau, The Banquet.

Scene three exhibited all the Virgins lulled to sleep by charms invoked by Queen Love-the-World, from which they were awakened by the Herald announcing the coming of the Bridegroom.

This follows a scene of great hurry and confusion. The Wise Virgins arise, trim their lamps and go forth to meet the Bridegroom. The Foolish Virgins try to borrow of the Wise but cannot, and have to go and buy. The Bridegroom comes, the Wise enter with him and the Foolish return just as the door is closed, only getting a brief glance at the magnificent scene within. They abandon themselves to despair. They apply for admission, but are answered from within, "Too late, too late, ye cannot enter now," and the curtain falls on the impressive broad, the best rolls, the finest biscuit and the lightest buckwheat cakes.

Only give it a trial and you will accomplish all that can be desired in the art of bread making. Ligon & Ely, general agents, receive it fresh daily, and keep it for sale.

Clarksville and Springfield to See Booth.

During the days when Booth will perform at Nashville, the train on the Southeastern road, which now arrives here at 7:45 a. m., will arrive here at 5 p. m., making direct connection with the train on the Memphis, Clarksville and Louisville road from Clarksville. The people of Clarksville and Springfield will be enabled to see the world renowned tragedian.—Nashville American.

GEN. GIBSON J. PILLOW, of Memphis, has filed his petition in bankruptcy. The lower House of Congress, by a vote of 186 to 57, repealed the bankruptcy law that has been in existence for several years past. The bill to take effect as soon as the cases now before the courts are settled. We presume Mr. Pillow filed his petition before the repeal of the law.

MR. SAM. JOHNSON has placed me under many obligations by the prompt and business like manner in which he has met the Insurance on my house, and for the benefit of all who may wish to insure. I would say, that I think it would be to their interest to insure with the North British and Mercantile Insurance Company of London and Edinburgh, which he represents.

Respectfully, JAS. G. DAILY.

ST. BETHLEHEM, Tenn., Jan. 31, 1876. Feb. 12, 1876-27.

Try one of the infallible Fire kindlers for lighting wood or coal fires without shavings, paper, or kindling wood. Ten to twenty fires made for a cost of one cent. Coal oil used to some purpose, and absolutely safe from explosions. No danger whatever. No fireworks, or house burnings. 350,000 sold, and one will last a life time. Is worth ten times the cost of it for exterminating worms and caterpillars.

If you want something that is absolutely essential to every family, call on me and invest one dollar, take the kindler home and try it. If you don't like it, bring it back, as there is always another man waiting for it. Respectfully, E. S. BRINGHURST, Feb. 19, 76-1-m.

MARRIED.

At the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. W. Wilkerson, in this county, on the 15th inst., by Rev. R. K. Brown, Mr. R. G. PICKERING to Miss LITTLE WILKESON, all of this county. The attendants were

Mr. J. L. Wilkerson and Miss C. Pickering, "Albert Miller," "M. Rudolph," "Hiram Alsbrook," "A. Fairick," "Zed Watson," "A. Wilkerson."

There was a quiet little gathering of relations to witness the union of the congenial couple. We would have been glad to have been a witness ourselves, but circumstances prevented. Rarely does a union of two such spirits occur—both are young, just entering upon life, with all that is calculated to give them a bright and happy start. As time advances, may their happiness increase, and all their fondest hopes and anticipations be fully realized. Their moral worth deserves a bright future, and a host of friends join in the wish that it may be their happy lot.

Report on the Condition of the Jail.

It is made the duty of the Grand Jury by law, to examine and report the condition of the county jail. The following is the report submitted: To the Hon. C. W. Tyler, Judge: We, the Grand Jurors respectfully report to your Honor, that after a thorough investigation of the jail and examination of the subject, we recommend that in view of the fact that the building is a very old one and very insecure and that the patching and now would have to be repeatedly done, and would not be much improvement; and further that the rooms are so that males and females cannot be kept apart, but in separate cages in the same room, and at times they cannot be kept in different cages but altogether. We therefore recommend that if the county could unite with the city and build a work house and jail jointly, it would be greatly to the interest of the county, and it would also be a step in the cause of humanity.

Respectfully submitted, D. DICK, Jr., Foreman.

THE Nashville American says: "A change will be made shortly in the Jackson county mail routes. The route to Charlotte will be changed, running from Dickson Station instead of White Bluff, as heretofore. However, there will still be three mails per week—on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays—arriving at Charlotte in the morning of those days and leaving in the evening. This change will take effect on and after the 8th inst."

SPECIAL announcement to Housekeepers. Art of bread-making perfected by the discovery of Goff, Fleischmann & Co's celebrated Compressed Yeast. It makes the sweetest bread, the best rolls, the finest biscuit and the lightest buckwheat cakes. Only give it a trial and you will accomplish all that can be desired in the art of bread making.
